Mr. Wentworth, of Illinois, demanded that the previous question.

The Speaker stated, that if it should be sustained it would cut off the motion to postpone and bring the House to a direct vote on the bill.

The previous question was seconded—aye 82, noes 73—when the question was put, "Will the House, on reconsideration, pass the bill?" and decided in the negative by the following vote, two-thirds not voting in favor thereof: yeas 96, nays 80.

SENATE.

The President of the Senate laid before the body, Journals of the House of Representatives, Council, and joint sessions of the third annual session of the Lower Indiana Assembly, of the T-

Mr. Dodge, of Iowa, introduced a bill to establish the office of surveyor general of Utah and to grant land to actual settlers thereof, which was referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

A message was received from the House Representatives, announcing the death of the Hon. Presley Ewing, a member of that body from the State of Kentucky, and communicating the proceedings of the House thereon.

The usual resolutions were passed, and the Senate adjourned till Monday.

In the House, the death of Presley Ewing was announced, and the House adjourned Monday.

CONGRESS ON THE 11th.

Congress manifested little inclination business last Monday. The President's Message was referred in the House, after a speech from Mr. Giddings.

In the Senate, Mr. Adams, of Mississippi made an anti-foreigner speech on his Naturalization resolutions.

THE LITTLE PILGRIM.

By an oversight, the prospectus of this highly little paper for Young Folk, appeared in our columns, last week, without an editor's notice; but it is not yet too late to commend it to the favorable attention of our readers. To know Grace Greenwood, and how finely she can adapt herself to the comprehension of children—an art requiring a more delicate intuition, and more practical philosophy, than is possessed by a majority of writers.

BURRITT'S CITIZEN OF THE WORLD

A Magazine of 16 pages, of about the size of Chambers' Edinburgh Journal, will be published monthly by George W. Taylor, Philadelphia, commencing with First of January, 1855, under the title of The Citizen of the World, edited by ELISE BURRITT. Terms, fifty cents per annum to be paid invariably in advance.

The Citizen of the World will endeavor to merit its nation, by viewing from the elevated standpoint of knowledge brotherhood all principles, policies, events, institutions and enterprises, which affect the peace, prosperity, intercourse, and common welfare, of the nations as a whole, and the rights, duty, and dignity of man, as an individual being. Whilst it regards these with an impartiality and records them with an impartial pen, it will gladly present all hopeful signs of progress; all honest hopes of truth, right, duty, and Christian charity; and all the steps of Governments and communities, in the path prescribed by a righteous policy, and the precepts of the Christian religion. With all this variety of topics, The Index of the World, it is confidently believed, will become a useful and welcome visitor to the different members of family that admits it to its social circle. Its pages are filled with articles from the editor's pen, giving his own observations and experiences in Europe, and with communications from correspondents in different parts of the world. For the young, it will serve up many a little, useful story and teaching illustration of the law of kindness and Christian love. For the Sabbath, it will have its bit of religious instruction, selected by paragraphs fit for the most eminent Christian writers of different countries, in every occupation, and for every age, it will seek to present something interesting and useful.

All communications relating to the Citizen of the South should be addressed, post paid, to George W. Taylor.

TERMS—Eight copies for three dollars, or fifteen copies for five dollars.

☐ The practice of Publishers in announcing new books as the most "brilliant," "thrilling," &c., has become a wise distrust of preliminary puff. Still, such is the intense pressure in the book market, that without some la noise, the most excellent work might be utterly ignored, at least for a long time. But the newspapers have unanimously confirmed the predictions which the Publishers of IDA MAY made as to its popularity. The work was widely heralded, but the more it is known the higher

A CARD.

In consequence of the late day at which some of my book came to hand last spring, after the exhaustion of the first edition, a few of them were left over until I could find time to issue a second. I regretted to find that I did not wish to put my second edition to press until fall, by which time I designed to enlarge and improve it. This edition is now nearly ready, as will be noticed elsewhere in this paper. Such orders will be filled first, and the publisher, in asking the indulgence of his patrons, hopes the enlargement and improvement more than remunerate them for the delay.

DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE

It has never been known to fail, and is one of the remedies that can be used. A friend of ours lately recalls, following statement in reference to this Vermifuge

GENTLEMAN: A young lady of my acquaintance has for a long time very much troubled with worms. I wrote to Dr. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge. Accordingly purchased and took one vial, which caused to discharge an unusually large quantity of worms. I was immediately relieved of all the dreadful symptoms accompanying this disease, and rapidly recovered my health. The young lady does not wish her name inserted; her residence, however, is 320 Fifth street, and refers to Mrs. Hardie, No. 3 Manhattan Place.

SPOKEN FROM THE SPIRIT WORLD
"A Lyric of the Morning Land."

A PRODUCTION of great beauty, and remarkable as a Spiritual phenomenon. This Book extends to 514 lines—363 pages, 12mo—and was spoken in thirty hours through THOMAS J. HANNEY, while he was entranced. Spiritist.

"The spiritual Ministry of Night
Is unknown. Day rules the sensuous mind,
But 't is night the fated spirit doth bind,
And through the silver palace gates of Night,
In dream and trance, she bears the soul away."

To the wide landscapes of the inner Day.
The souls of men are wanderers while asleep;
And life's continuous current ever flows
Whither to outward bliss the pulses leap,
Or, languid, glides in silence and repose.

And could one mortal tell of all his sees,
Recalling Night's close-curtained mysteries,
The breeze that bears to Heaven man's common thought
Would hear such mighty gladiators, and be fraught
With such enrapturement, that the skies would thrill
In sympathy divine. — Morning Land, pp. 30, 40.

NEW AND WONDERFUL.

WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. Currie, of this city, in the treatment of Consumption, Asthma, and all Diseases of the Lungs, by the use of Dr. Currie's Hygeena, or Inhaling Hygeena Vapor. This new method, Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health, and the evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Specimens of the treatment, a physician remarks: "It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing, and pure medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the mucous membrane, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeena is safe for sale at
